

WG01 “Where are you really, from?” Migration and belonging in a mobile rural

Organizers

Philomena de Lima, Markus Meckl, and Ivan Emke

WG01_1 “Where are you really, from?” Immigration and impacts

May 23, 9:10–10:30 Room 1

Work-related immigration to rural areas – effects on demography and employment

Finn Ove Båtevik, batevik@hivolda.no

Volda University College, Norway

Gro Marit Grimsrud, Gro.Grimrud@uni.no

Uni Research, Norway

Sustaining resilience: An individual and municipality perspective on refugee migration into rural areas

Susanne Stenbacka, susanne.stenbacka@kultgeog.uu.se

Uppsala University, Sweden

Children left behind - the consequences of parental emigration

Ilze Trapenciere, ilze.trapenciere@lza.lv

Ieva Karklina, ieva@petijums.lv

Institute of Philosophy and Sociology, University of Latvia

Young people of immigrant background – the barrel of hope for rural Finland?

Tiina Sotkasiira, tiina.sotkasiira@uef.fi

University of Eastern Finland

WG01_2: “Where are you really, from?” Transnational interaction and relationships

May 23, 10:40 - 12:20 Room 1

Norwegian rural municipalities as perceived and experienced by international migrants

Aadne Aasland, aadne.aasland@nibr.hioa.no

Brit Lynnebakke, brit.lynnebakke@nibr.hioa.no

Norwegian Institute for Urban and Regional Research, Norway

Immigration to Norwegian rural municipalities as understood by the local elites

Susanne Søholt, susanne.soholt@nibr.hioa.no

Norwegian Institute for Urban and Regional Research, Norway

The paradox of tolerance: migration and integration in Northern Ireland

Ruth McAreavey, r.mcareavey@qub.ac.uk

Queen’s University Belfast, N. Ireland

New neighbours: Local outcomes of asylum centres in rural communities in Denmark

Birgitte Romme Larsen, birgitte.romme@hum.ku.dk

Zachary Whyte, zacha.whyte@anthro.ku.dk

University of Copenhagen, Denmark

The ambivalent welcome: Attitudes towards immigrants in rural Norway

Kristian Rose Tronstad, kristian.tronstad@nibr.hioa.no

Norwegian Institute for Urban and Regional Research, Norway

WG01_3: “Where are you really, from?” Belonging, identity and happiness

May 23, 13:50 - 15:30 Room 1

Session chair

Philomena de Lima

Immigration and happiness

Stéphanie Barillé, stbarille@gmail.com

Markus Meckl, markus@unak.is

University of Akureyri, Iceland

Between fixity and fluidity –belonging and wellbeing in rural areas

Philomena de Lima, philomena.deLima.ic@uhi.ac.uk

University of the Highland & Islands, UK

Home is “here”: The impact of (im)migration, and rural versus urban locale on one’s sense of community belonging in Canada

E. Dianne Looker, dianne.looker@msvu.ca

Mount Saint Vincent and Acadia Universities, Canada

Exploring media, identity, and migration in the Scottish Highlands: A mixed methods study

Kristine N. Stewart, kristine.stewart@zu.ac.ae

Zayed University, UAE

Rural Iceland and immigration

Kjartan Ólafsson, kjartan@unak.is

University of Akureyri, Iceland